STUDENT'S COLUMN

This year, the festival of Holi was on the 24th and 25th of March. Holi is celebrated each year with zeal and enthusiasm in the month of March. On the 23rd of March, I celebrated Holi in my school. It was the last annual exam of this session and we ended it with the festival of colours with my friends and teachers. We had so much fun as we were all drenched in colour by the end of the day. Our teachers used organic colours to play Holi. After that, we all went home. On the 24th of March, it was 'Holika Dahan' also known as 'Chhoti Holi'. On this day, an effigy of Holika made out of cow dung is burned on a woodpile, along with other old, worn, and waste items - a practice that reminds us to do away with all the negativity in life. On the 25th of March, I celebrated Holi with different organic colours and water balloons. No celebration is complete without indulging in delectable sweets, and when it comes to Holi, traditional sweets such as gujiyas and mathri were made in every home. This is how I celebrated the festival of Holi with my friends, teachers, family, and relatives. The judicious way of playing Holi is always better. One should try to keep the message that Holi endorses.

Namaste Everyone!
I'm Debapriya Mohapatra

Recently, we had our final exams and it went very well.

I was so excited for it because

Exam is not just about writing in a paper but also it shows how much knowledge we have gained through out the session and how nicely we can handle and express it and I love to express my thoughts.

We all felt really relaxed once the exams got over.

After exams we had holidays for one week.

During that period , I went on a family trip. I spent quality time with my family which gave a positive change of mind and relaxation. I spent my holidays happily.

माँ का घर

बरसो बीत गए,
उस घर से विदा हुए।
बरसो बीत गए,
नई दुनियां बसाए हुए।
फिर भी याद आते हैं वो पल,
जो हमने थे वहां बिताए हुए।
रम गए इस नई जिंदगी में,
घर ,परिवार और बच्चों कि खुशी में फिर भी जब भी आता हैं, नाम मां
के घर का, खो जाती उस घर की कहानी में
कुछ पुरानी बातें,
कुछ पुरानी यादें,
जिंदा है आज भी,
वो कही,कुछ रिश्ते नाते।
फुर्सत में ही सही,
कुछ पल के लिए चाहती हू जीना फिर से वही जिंदगी, ये मेरी तमन्ना
ही सही।
कितना भी बसा लो अपना घर, पर याद ही आता है मां का घर।खुद
बनकर भी मां,
याद आती हैं सिर्फ अपनी मां।

Air Traffic Control Management

The operation of the future global air traffic system depends on the efficient and effective management of system capacity, as air transport demand continues to expand faster than system capacity. Even though research in pertinent fields like airport capacity modeling and air traffic flow management has advanced significantly over the past 20 years, there are still gaps in the field, and collaboration between various research fields is necessary to improve the system performance of air traffic management.

Therefore, the purpose of this work is to highlight fruitful research areas by conducting a systematic review of recent research on the topic of air traffic management in the literature. The two tiers of air traffic management papers are examined and classified: system and airport. Air traffic flow management and airspace research are the two primary subjects of study at the system level of aviation transportation. Research subjects at the airport level include aircraft operations in the airport terminal maneuvering area, aircraft ground operations, airport capacity, and airport facility use.

Research subjects at the airport level include aircraft operations in the airport terminal maneuvering area, aircraft ground operations, airport capacity, and airport facility use. Future research priorities could include integrating airspace and airport capacities, establishing information systems at airports to optimize airport usage, and refining flight schedule planning to increase the consistency of schedule execution.
